20 Killed in 'horrific' upstate New York limousine crash

It's the deadliest transport crash in almost a decade.

ISTOCK

Twenty people were killed when a stretch limousine crashed into another vehicle and pedestrians in the parking lot of a store in rural upstate New York, in what federal authorities on Sunday called the deadliest U.S. transport crash in nearly a decade.

A 2001 Ford Excursion that had been stretched into a limousine charged through a highway intersection without stopping on Saturday afternoon, New York State Police and the National Transportation Safety Board said on Sunday.

The limo then hit an unoccupied 2015 Toyota Highlander in the parking lot of a tourist restaurant and slammed into two pedestrians, killing all 18 occupants of the limo and the two people in the parking lot, state police and the NTSB said.

"Twenty fatalities is just horrific. I have been on the board for 12 years and this is one of the biggest losses of life that we've seen in a long time," NTSB Chairman Robert Sumwalt told a news conference on Sunday.

On Sunday, emergency vehicles clustered near the parking lot of the Apple Barrel Country Store, the scene of the crash, in Schoharie, about 40 miles west of the state capital, Albany.

It was the deadliest transportation accident in the United States since a 2009 plane crash in Buffalo, New York, that killed 49 people, Sumwalt said.

The dead included at least two pairs of newlyweds, the New York Times reported. No injuries were reported.

Barbara Douglas, the aunt of four sisters who died in the crash, said the victims were smart, beautiful and lived life to the fullest.

"I've been on the board for 12 years and this is one of the biggest losses of life we've seen in a long time."

Robert Sumwalt, NTSB chairman

"I don't know how you say it. You can't wrap your head around such a tragedy where you have four of your daughters die," she told reporters at the scene.

"I don't know what to tell you, they were the best nieces that anybody could have," she said.

Names of the victims have not been released pending notification of the next of kin. The New York Post, though, reported the names of the four sisters as Abigail Jackson, Mary Dyson, Allison King and Amy Steenburg.

The NTSB and the New York State Police were probing the cause of the crash and looking into safety regulations in the limousine industry.

The victims were taken to Albany Medical Center, where autopsies were conducted. All those killed were adults, state police said. REUTERS

ARRESTS MADE AFTER UFC POST-FIGHT BRAWL

2 Chaos erupted after Khabib Nurmagomedov retained his UFC lightweight title with a submission victory over Ireland's Conor McGregor on Saturday, with members of his support team arrested after an all-in brawl broke out after the bout. The Russian ended McGregor's attempt to win back the title when he sealed a brutal submission victory with a rear naked choke hold in the fourth round, which then sparked a mass brawl. Fights broke out in and around the cage, with a red-shirted fan landing several blows on McGregor before security intervened. Both fighters were escorted from the arena by police and security. UFC boss Dana White later told Fox Sports that three members of Nurmagomedov's team were arrested. The fight had been highlighted by bad blood between both camps, with McGregor pleading guilty in July as part of a deal with prosecutors to resolve charges over an April melee in which he attacked a bus the Russian was traveling on. The situation boiled over after referee Herb Dean waved off the fight, which prompted Nurmagomedov to jump out of the cage and head straight for McGregor's teammate and corner man Dillon Danis, prompting a series of violent scuffles.

POMPEO: MORE NEEDS TO BE DONE WITH N. KOREA

3 North Korean leader Kim Jong Un and U.S. Secretary of State Mike Pompeo agreed to arrange a second leaders summit "as soon as possible," and discussed potential U.S. monitoring of Pyongyang's steps toward denuclearization, South Korea's presidential office said on Sunday. Pompeo said his latest, fourth trip to Pyongyang was "another step forward" to denuclearization and he had a "good, productive conversation" with Kim, but more needed to be done. South Korean President Moon Jae-in held talks with Pompeo in Seoul after the top U.S. diplomat met with Kim for more than three hours. Pompeo's trip to Pyongyang happened amid negative signals from North Korea whose actions have fallen short of Washington's demands for a complete inventory of its nuclear weapons and irreversible steps to give up an arsenal that potentially threatens the United States. Pompeo said he and Kim discussed denuclearization steps to be taken by the North and the issue of U.S. government monitoring of those actions, which Washington sees as vital, as well as the measures the United States would conduct in return, Moon's office said.

'MICHAEL' LOOMS IN GULF, COULD BECOME HURRICANE

4 A tropical depression became Tropical Storm Michael on Sunday and may become a hurricane by midweek, potentially bringing storm surges and heavy rainfall to the U.S. Gulf Coast, the U.S. National Hurricane Center (NHC) said. The storm was about 225 miles southwest of the western tip of Cuba at 2 p.m. Eastern Time, with sustained winds of 40 mph, the National Weather Service said. The system is set to bring heavy rain and flash flooding to areas of Central America, western Cuba and Mexico's Yucatan peninsula as early as Sunday night. Michael could become a hurricane by Tuesday night or Wednesday, the NHC said in a Sunday afternoon advisory. A tropical storm warning is in effect for the Cuban provinces of Pinar del Rio and the Isle of Youth and the eastern coast of Mexico from Tulum to Cabo Catoche, including Cozumel. Winds were forecast to drop in intensity as the system tracks northeast over Alabama, Georgia and South Carolina, reaching North Carolina by Thursday. The Commodity Weather Group said on Sunday there might be some precautionary evacuation of oil rigs in the area affected by the storm, which may slow down operations but not likely cause much interruption.

Kaufman Astoria Studios: Part of Queens' cultural renaissance

For nearly a century, Kaufman Astoria Studios has made movie and TV magic; today, it anchors the Kaufman Arts District.

Kaufman Astoria Studios

What do "Animal Crackers," "The Wiz," "Goodfellas," "Sesame Street" and "Orange Is the New Black" have in common? They were all made at Kaufman Astoria Studios in Queens. The studio, set behind a Hollywood-like gate on 35th Street, opened in 1920 as the original home of Paramount Pictures.

"I find it kind of funny that what was built for silent films is now home to one of the first digital streaming series on Netflix," Vice President Tracy Capune said, as "OITNB" was the third Netflix Original released.

Not only is Kaufman Astoria Studios where some of your favorite movies and shows are still made — and home to the city's only backlot — it's also the anchor of Astoria's Kaufman Arts District, Queens' first cultural district.

Founded by Kaufman Astoria Studios, Museum of the Moving Image and Queens Council on the Arts, the 24-block-plus district strives to support emerging artists.

It's a creative endeavor you feel as you walk its streets, which is a far cry from the Astoria that Carl Goodman, the museum's executive director, saw when it opened in 1988, a few years after developer George Kaufman renovated and expanded the landmarked site now known as Kaufman Astoria Studios to help revitalize the community.

"There would be syringes and broken glass on the street, and people were told not to ride their bikes around here," Goodman said. "When people talk about the sudden renaissance of the neighborhood, I chuckle because this was a vision the people behind the project had, so it's a great source of pride."

"Non-Violence," also known as "The Knotted Gun" PONTUS HÖÖK

Celebrating the iconic UN 'Knotted Gun' sculpture

"Gandhi proved that non-violence can change history. Let us be inspired by his courage and conviction," said U.N. Secretary-General António Guterres.

"He was a wonderful person and a talented artist."

Jan Hellman, on Carl Fredrik Reuterswärd

ANNA HARSTEDT
letters@metro.us

It's been 30 years since the internationally famous "Knotted Gun" propeace sculpture made by the Swedish artist Carl Fredrik Reuterswärd was unveiled in front of the United Nations headquarters in New York City. The occasion was recently marked with a special ceremony on International Day of Non-Violence.

Reuterswärd's classic "Non-Violence" sculpture was created 30 years ago to honor his friend John Lennon, of The Beatles, who was tragically gunned down outside his New York City home. Through the years, the "Knotted Gun" sculpture has become a global symbol of peace and conflict resolution. Today, you can find the sculpture in over 30 different locations worldwide.

"He was a wonderful person and an extremely talented artist. He was passionate about bringing peace, justice and nonviolence into his art to create a message, which he really did," Jan Hellman, close friend to Reuterswärd and founder of The Non-Violence Project Foundation, told Metro.

The Swedish artist left behind a legacy that has inspired millions of people all over the world. Charity foundation The Non-Violence Project was created with the goal of educating children and young people in peace and conflict resolutions. The foundation now exists in 30 different countries and has educated over 8 million children.

"'The Knotted Gun' and its message has meant a lot to us and has had a huge impact on our foundation and on people all over the world." Hellman said. "It's a symbol that is easy for people to understand and it makes people think. Actually, it's one of the most photographed sculptures in New York."

Last week, International Day of Non-Violence was celebrated at the U.N. headquarters in Midtown Manhattan for the 11th year in a row on the birthday of Mahatma Gandhi, leader of the Indian independence movement and pioneer of the philosophy and strategy of non-violence. It was a day aimed at creating public awareness and education by sending out the message of non-violence, tolerance and peace.

"Gandhi proved that non-violence can change history. Let us be inspired by his courage and conviction as we continue our work to advance peace, sustainable development and human rights for all of the peoples of the world," said U.N. Secretary-General António Guterres.

This year's ceremony was dedicated to the 30-year anniversary of "The Knotted Gun" and the work of Reuterswärd. During the ceremony, a personal letter to Reuterswärd written by Julian Lennon, John Lennon's son, was read aloud as a greeting from the Lennon family.

Dems urge voters to focus Kav anger on election

FRED SCHILLING, COLLECTION OF THE SUPREME COURT OF THE UNITED STATES

Two Democratic senators on Sunday said voters angry that Republicans confirmed Brett Kavanaugh to the Supreme Court despite allegations of sexual misconduct should focus on next month's congressional elections instead of seeking to impeach the new justice.

Some Democrats in the House of Representatives have indicated Kavanaugh could face investigations or even potential impeachment if they win majorities in the House and possibly the Senate. But Senators Chris Coons and Mazie Hirono distanced themselves from those demands, saying they are concentrating on the Nov. 6 congressional elections.

"I think that's premature," Coons said of impeachment talk on NBC's "Meet the Press." "Frankly we are just less than a month away from an election. Folks who feel very strongly one way or other about the issues in front of us should get out and vote and participate."

Kavanaugh was sworn in late on Saturday amid protests at the court after he was narrowly confirmed in a 50-48 Senate vote. Democrats and liberal groups raised questions as to whether he will be a partisan justice.

Hirono, speaking on ABC's "This Week," said, "I'm focused like a laser beam on the elections" when asked about impeachment.

"I'm very focused on the here and now, which is that all these angry women, mainly, out there saw what was going on and how the Senate was not able to deal with the entire issue of sexual assault," she said.

Noting that only one Supreme Court justice has ever been impeached, Coons said the Senate needed to show leadership and seek to heal the country. REUTERS

Doctors Urge Knee Pain Sufferers

"Don't Get ANY Surgery Until You SeeThis…"

After Years Of Intense Study, NYC Medical Clinic Finally Reveals It's Best "Treatment Formula" For Helping Knee Arthritis Sufferers... Especially When So Many Other Treatments Have Failed

NEW YORK CITY - If you are even remotely interested in discovering how the latest scientific discoveries can possibly help your knee pain... then this is going is be the most exciting information you ever read.

Here is why: Knee pain can not only be brutal... it's complex. In other words, it's not a simple, easy fix.

But I'm sure you already know that. Or you wouldn't be reading this.

That's the bad news.

Now for some good news...

Over the years, NYC Pain MD has treated countless knee pain sufferers. And in that time have been able to constantly improve.

And we have come up with a treatment formula that we have found works best and helps the most patients.

This formula has reduced or even eliminated the pain in many. Some were scheduled for knee replacement surgery and felt good enough to cancel their surgery.

It's amazing when patients who were once in excruciating pain... start feeling better. And start walking again. And playing golf. Or tennis. And finally getting their lives back.

Especially when they had gone to other doctors and tried so many other things.

So many had given up hope.

Sound familiar? If it does... check this out...

The Treatment Formula

While I can't give you the entire treatment formula here (there is not enough space and WAY too complicated) I can give you the basics. And more important... I can tell you what it might be able to do for YOU.

The first and most important part of the formula is: PATIENT SELECTION.

This means, NYC Pain MD has a detailed screening process to tell who is most likely to be helped by their treatments... and who is not.

If you qualify, you have the opportunity to move forward and experience the worldclass treatments that NYC Pain MD offers.

If you do not, NYC Pain MD will tell you what they think your best options are and help you find the right doctor for you.

NYC Pain MD "Treatment Formula" A protocol of advanced medical treatments that has already helped thousands.

If you qualify, NYC Pain MD offers some of the most advanced medical treatments available today all using the most advanced imaging technology including:

- Viscosupplementation (gel injections)
- Platelet Rich Plasma (PRP)
- Stem Cell Therapy (Lipogems)
- Genicular Knee Block
- And more.

Once again, there is not enough space to go into detail about all these procedures... but here are some things you MUST KNOW....

Viscosupplementation is where a doctor introduces a gel-like medicine directly into the joint space. This helps to lubricate the joints often relieving some, most or even all of your pain. Results can last for 6 months to several years.

Many have had these treatments without good results. However, NYC Pain MD feels this is because doctors often do these "gel injections" without advanced imaging to guide them. Research shows they will often miss the joint. If the joint is missed... it is impossible for the treatment to work.

NYC Pain MD has spared no expense and used advanced imaging to guide the injections assuring the medicine gets into the joint. We frequently get results when this treatment was a failure done elsewhere.

The second thing you must know is... our treatment plans are custom made for every patent. And we have all these treatments offered in the same place. Many times you will get the best results from multiple treatments. At NYC Pain MD your doctors will all be there and will all know each other and you and your case. They work together and give you the best treatments and care without you having to go anywhere else.

The ability to select the right patients and then have the potential to give them any or all of these treatments... with all the necessary medical technology... under one roof... has allowed NYC Pain MD to get better results than they thought possible.

Here's What You Should Do Next

If you suffer with knee pain... and any of this made sense to you... NYC Pain MD would like to offer you a No-cost screening. That screening is the first step in our "Treatment Formula."

You will get to see a doctor and ask any questions you have. Your doctor will take the first steps to see if you qualify for treatments and give you recommendations.

The best thing is... you will finally get direction. You will know what's going on and what is your best course of action… step-by-step. The treatments will be explained in detail and you will breathe a big sigh of relief finally knowing what's going on and what can or cannot be done.

There is so much we want to say to help you... but I'm out of space. Give us a call at 877-296-6310 and take the first step. That step is free without obligation.

Excuse me, how do you leave the house without a tissue of any kind in a giant purse or briefcase?
Must be listen to the constant sniff, sniff, sniff, cough, cough, cough because you forgot? Or how about you don't use your hand to catch a few drops and then hold on to the pole. Geez Louise.
I carry plenty, and want to offer, but then I'm like what do you actually have in that giant purse or briefcase, that you don't have a single tissue? Use a piece of paper for goodness sake. Stop annoying us.

ATTACK OF THE BOOKBAGS!
I don't like when I'm on the train and people get on the train with bookbags on their backs and they won't take them off .so every time they turn and twist they hit you in the head or somewhere on your body. People don't realize that a book bag is a extension of their body.they are so focused on their phones they don't even realize the way they move. When you are on a crowded train you need to put your book bag in front of you

Aries Put more energy into your relationships with others. Let people know they are appreciated in order to get the help you need to do things your way.

Taurus Personal changes can be made, but before you jump into something that may be upsetting to others, consider the outcome and the possible consequences. Keep the peace.

Gemini A break will help you recharge and give you the boost you need to finish what you start. Avoid those bearing grudges or looking for a fight.

Cancer Keep your emotions tucked away someplace safe. Your time will be better spent helping others or working with children or creative individuals. Romance will brighten your day.

Leo Put more time and effort into taking care of your responsibilities. Bring about positive changes that will enhance your life and please the people who count on you.

Virgo Sign up to learn something new or visit a place that you find relaxing or inspiring. Time spent with a loved one or working on personal growth or fitness is favored.

Libra Own whatever you do. Be proud of who you are and what you stand for. Accomplishment will result if you are accepting of others and true to yourself and your beliefs.

Scorpio Stick to a plan. Refuse to let trivial matters set you off or stand between you and your goal. Stay focused and don't stop until you are satisfied with the results.

Sagittarius An interesting opportunity will develop that can change the way you earn your living or handle your personal finances. Reconnect with a former co-worker to brainstorm.

Capricorn Be careful how you phrase your words. Sensitive issues must be handled with diplomacy. Don't expect everyone to agree or to like the decisions you make.

Aquarius Stay strong and don't let anyone interfere in your life. Someone will try to persuade you to take part in indulgent behavior or engage in something that isn't to your benefit.

Pisces Keep your eye on what you want and be willing to accept minor adjustments moving forward. Intelligent compromise will help seal a deal.

Inside Harry Potter's magical world

The British Library's exhibit of the real-world books and artifacts that inspired the Wizarding World come to the New-York Historical Society.

EVA KIS
eva.kis@metro.us

The next best thing to attending Hogwarts School of Witchcraft and Wizardry yourself is visiting Harry Potter: History of Magic, now open at the New-York Historical Society.

It seems impossible, but we solemnly swear it's true: Even the most diehard Harry Potter fan will learn something new at this exhibit of real-world science, folklore and "magic" that J.K. Rowling used to build the Wizarding World.

The already Hogwarts-like halls of the Historical Society with their soaring Gothic arches are the perfect setting for the show of centuries-old artifacts, manuscripts, books and antiques from around the world.

"It's hard to believe Harry Potter had been in our lives for 20 years, but magic has been in our lives for much longer," says Louise Mirrer, president and CEO of the New-York Historical Society.

Created by the British Library and first displayed in London, the exhibit brings out the Hermione Granger in any visitor as they peruse each room, organized by the subjects taught at Hogwarts. In Alchemy, you'll find an actual alchemical scroll from Yale University that medieval practitioners believed could yield a Sorcerer's Stone and meet Nicolas Flamel, a real Parisian baron born in 1330 who lived to age 80 — "which is basically immortal for his time," according to British Library docent Tanya Kirk.

Potions introduces you to the first illustration of witches with a cauldron from a book published in 1489 — ironically, it was meant to calm fears about witchcraft, but because it was written in Latin which most people couldn't read, including the illustrator, it just fueled the panic.

Just as in the wizarding world, whimsical touches abound too. The Herbology section includes a study of garden gnomes, and among the items on display in Care of Magical Creatures is the "mermaid" that toured the country as part of P.T. Barnum's circus freak show, actually made up of fish parts, chicken claws and a carved wooden head.

As fascinating as it is to make connections between our world and the Wizarding World, among the gems of the exhibit are the never-before-seen artworks by Jim Kay and the personal relics of J.K. Rowling and Bloomsbury. The first Harry Potter book was famously rejected by several publishers until editor Nigel Newton gave the manuscript to his 8-year-old daughter Alice to evaluate. Her handwritten reader's note — which reads in part, "The excitement of this book made me feel warm inside." — might be the star of the show.

While History of Magic is a fascinating and fun romp on your own, you can book a guided tour or use a free audio guide narrated by Game of Thrones star Natalie Dormer, courtesy of Audible.

And to help connect Harry Potter fans, the Historical Society will also be holding trivia nights, a book club, workshops and more special events throughout the run of the exhibit — they even host birthday parties.

Harry Potter: History of Magic is open through Jan. 27, 2019. Tickets are $21 for adults, $13 students, $6 kids ages 5-13; nyhistory.org

The show also features never-before-seen artwork by Jim Kay and other Potter illustrators.

Harry Potter: History of Magic is arranged by subjects at Hogwarts.

Emily Kinney talks new album, touring and if she's down for a return to 'The Walking Dead'

The actress and musician is back with a new record, "Oh, Jonathan."

PAT KING
patrick.king@metro.us

ALL PHOTOS LINDSEY BYRNES

Since leaving "The Walking Dead," actress Emily Kinney has hit the ground running to reinvent herself as a singer-songwriter. But what is so astonishing about Kinney's transition is that she arrived a fully formed and convincing songwriter right out of the gate.

Kinney is on the road promoting her third full-length album, "Oh, Jonathan," and will be playing New York's Public Arts on Oct. 11.

Your new album has such huge lush sound that matches your narrative lyric style. Which artists influenced you for this album?

I took a while to write this one, and I had been experimenting a lot. I'd say that the artists that really influenced me are this band, and they don't necessarily sound like my music but I was thinking about them a lot, are Frightened Rabbit. They're a Scottish Rock band. Their lyrics and the way they paint stories and their sounds. They create a world that all of the songs live in. ... Also, Regina Spektor. She's one of my favorite artists. She also is very lyric-driven but also is able to create these worlds with the instrumentation that she picks.

What came first for you, songwriting or acting?

I would say music came first as far as what was the gateway into performing. When I was little I wasn't necessarily into acting at first, I was into learning songs and singing them to my parents.

When I first moved to New York, I was definitely pursuing acting and I would go to auditions. But then I would go to Rockwood, Pete's Candy Store and other music clubs to see friends play. I started singing backup for people. Eventually when I was doing "Spring Awakening" on Broadway, a lot of those actors had music projects, and that's what inspired me to do my own music. ... That was all before "The Walking Dead." As my acting career grew, that opened me up to much bigger audiences. So I definitely did start to feel some motivation because there was an audience there.

A lot of people romanticize the life of the working actress or a touring musician. Now that you have been both, has this put things into perspective for you?

I guess the biggest thing that I've learned is figuring out what aspects of each actually makes me really happy. I do like being on set. I realized that I really like the work of it. For touring, I like it once we are actually at the venue.

But you know, when you're doing that all of the time, then you kind of long for other things. I always tell people I love going grocery shopping. Because when I'm acting, I'm on set ... Just being home and being able to make your own coffee and going to the grocery store. Getting to actually see your friends and be involved in your friends' lives in a more everyday — or even just weekly — way is actually really special and awesome. I think when you don't have that, you realize how much the everyday normal things are so special.

Jon Bernthal is reprising his role on this season of "The Walking Dead." Would you ever return to the show?

I mean ... I would love to! I love the show and I'm really proud to be a part of that group of actors. So, yeah! As far as I know right now, I'm not doing it. But, I would be down!

Regina King talks her recent Emmy win and why we need more female voices in Hollywood

All Photos: Getty Images

The actress also gives the scoop on her upcoming role in HBO's "The Watchmen."

PAT KING
patrick.king@metro.us

Regina King has been an onscreen MVP since she began her career as an actress over 30 years ago. She has shined in a string of amazing supporting roles in shows like "Southland," "The Leftovers" and "American Crime."

King's performance in the anthology series "American Crime" won her two back-to-back Emmys for Best Supporting Actress in a Limited Series. But this year, she nabbed the award for her lead performance in Neflix's intense drama "Seven Seconds" from "The Killing's" Veena Sud. It was a real moment for King and the world to recognize her as a leading actress.

King is also a director. She's directed episodes of "Insecure," "Shameless" and "This Is Us." She has recently partnered with Gillette Venus as a mentor for a campaign called "Her Shot," which aims to bring female directors into the world of marketing, as less than 7 percent of all video content created is created by female directors.

We spoke with King about her Emmy win and why representation is so important in the entertainment industry.

Congrats on the Emmy! This is your third Emmy and first for a lead role for "Seven Seconds." I think I speak for a lot of people when I say you have deserved this kind of lead role for a long time. How did it feel when they called your name?

It felt a bit surreal. I think each one is quite different. But this one, just because of the optics from my perspective, it was a really huge surprise. It felt good. It felt good especially because of the subject matter. Hopefully, the honest part of awards shows is that they were created to bring more eyes to material and storytelling. So my hope is that, because it's on Netflix, this win will bring a whole new group of eyes that may have missed "Seven Seconds" before to check it out.

Aside from acting you have been directing a lot of television. Can you tell us about your new partnership with Gillette Venus' and the "Her Shot" campaign to get more women behind the camera?

Basically, as I was saying, I'm just a champion of hearing more voices that are from different perspectives. By that I mean, the reality is the content that we are consuming is not reflective of the numbers of our human population.

Because that is the case, when I found out that Gillette Venus was creating a space for female creators that would not have had the opportunity to show their content or have a platform for people to even know that they exist and are out there telling stories and creating content — I was excited.

It was kind of a no-brainer for me to partner up with them and kind of be a voice for these 10 women who are so different and so talented. While they are all female, all of their perspectives are different.

That's really the biggest thing that myself and Venus are trying to bring light to. It's not just about the male vs. female. It's that we're missing out on over 50% of fresh voices and fresh perspectives on storytelling and expressing content. For anybody out there that considers themselves an artist or a consumer of art, we're being cheated! We're not getting the opportunity to see all of the art.

This kind of goes hand in hand with the call for more inclusion riders in the entertainment industry.

Absolutely. Whenever you are in a position of power or to create more opportunities, then that's paying it forward. That's the reason humans exist! That's what we're supposed to do. I hope that other companies will see what Gillete Venus is doing and look at this model and follow suit. Just the way they create their products I think is really unique. It shouldn't be unique, but it is. The fact that they are creating them after doing the research on what it is that women need with their hair removal. What would be best for them and applying it into their development of products.

I'll tell you this — from a person who loves shoes — I feel like sometimes there is a man that has never walked in a heel in his life who has made the shoe. It sure is pretty, but it does not feel good! (laughs) I think that is what makes Gillette Venus unique because they are not just creating a product because it is pretty. They've created a product based on researching and talking to women about their needs.

GETTY

You will be starring in the new "The Watchmen" series on HBO. Can you tell us about it? Were you a fan of the original comic?

Actually, no, but I'm a huge fan of Damon Lindelof. I think that he can write about anything and make it interesting and make you realize that there is a story behind everything. My relationship with him on "The Leftovers" allowed me to discover that. So when this came around, it was kind of like a no-brainer for me because I had been wanting to play a hero for a while now. I feel honored that Damon saw in me, that I am still capable of playing a hero. He's giving me an opportunity to kind of live a dream in a lot of regards. It could have been "Watchmen" or anything. It just had to be someone who understands and is just a beautiful storyteller. Damon really is. He's captivating. I've been lucky to work with a lot of really great storytellers and Damon is at the top of the list. I get to play in the sandbox again with Damon. So, start up in a couple of weeks.

Yankees have momentum as ALDS shifts to Bronx

After stealing Game 2 in Boston, the Yankees host the Red Sox tonight.

In a flash, the momentum is with the New York Yankees after stealing Game 2 of the ALDS from the Boston Red Sox in Fenway Park on Saturday night.

With the best-of-five series tied 1-1, Game 3 makes its way to what will be a raucous Yankee Stadium tonight as New York now has home-field advantage with the next two games being played in the Bronx.

Luis Severino gets the start for the Yankees, his first since a redeeming performance in the American League Wild Card Game against the Oakland Athletics last week.

After struggling mightily during the second half of the season that saw an ERA over 14 games skyrocket to 5.67, Severino was still given the ball in the one-game playoff. He went four innings without giving up a hit and striking out seven before being pulled in the fifth after allowing two quick singles. However, his control was off as he allowed four walks on the night.

In five starts against the Red Sox this season, he has a 3.65 ERA but he's been brilliant against them at home, which is good news for the Yankees. Over the three starts he's had against Boston in 2018, he has a 1.41 ERA as he's allowed just three runs on 14 hits in 19.2 innings of work.

There is plenty of concern for the visiting Red Sox, whose 108-win season could be in real trouble should they drop Game 3 against the Yankees.

While Rick Porcello was slated to start Game 3, the Red Sox on Sunday swapped him with Nathan Eovaldi instead.

Hemp Gummies Offer Amazing Relief That Tastes So Good

Hemp Gummies offer users fast acting relief from agonizing joint and muscle discomfort that's absolutely delicious; legal in all 50 states without a prescription

Chris Laufstein
Associated Health Press

BOSTON - - For millions battling daily discomfort, this news couldn't be more exciting.

A new relief extract found in hemp is legal in all 50 States and can be purchased without a prescription.

And the best part, it comes to users in the form of a tasty gummy bear.

So you can say goodbye to pills, needles, and creams!

Hemp Gummies, contains pure concentrated doses of legal hemp extract, which can help relieve agonizing joint discomfort along with general muscle aches and soreness.

It also calms, relaxes, and eases tension all over the body.

Exciting new scientific research shows that hemp extract contains special relief molecules called cannabinoids which bind to receptor cites in the brain and body. When taken orally, hemp extract activates these receptors, and soothing comfort begins to take form.

Legal Across the Nation

Recent developments, like the US Farm Bill, allow Hemp Gummies to be sold in all States without a prescription. And since it can't get you high it's flying off the shelves.

"Most people have no idea that pure hemp extract, like Hemp Gummies, can be purchased legally anywhere in the US. And that's because it contains no THC," explains Dr. Joe Wezensky, who sits on the scientific board at Medici Quest.

"Instead, it's bursting with special relief compounds called cannabinoids. These cannabinoids target special receptor cites all over the body but are most prominent in the brain."

"This system of cannabinoids and the receptors that they bind to are called the Endocannabinoid System and science is just now unlocking its amazing medical potential"

"In fact, the initial research has been so impressive that hemp extract is now patented by the US Government (patent #6,630,507)."

"It's also being used by athletes in the NFL, MMA among other physically demanding sports as a safe alternative."

Clearing Up the Confusion Around Hemp

One of the biggest mistakes people make when talking about hemp extract is mixing it up with marijuana.

Although the two fall under the same plant category, cannabis sativa, they have completely different effects on the body.

Remarkably, hemp extract is 100% legal and can't get you high (ever!). That's because there is no THC in it, the chemical that makes you feel "buzzed".

"Although you can't get high from Hemp Gummies, you can start feeling the relief right away" explains Wezensky.

"Most people have very low cannabinoid levels, which is why they constantly ache. Hemp Gummies boosts cannabinoid levels extremely fast, helping relieve lingering joint discomfort ...muscle tension... and general soreness. It also eases stress and elicits amazing relaxation without feeling impaired. And what most people really love is they're delicious and so easy to take on the go.

How it Works

Clinical studies show that cannabinoids and the receptors that they bind to are found all over your body.

However, they are most concentrated in your brain. That's why it has such a profound impact on how you feel, especially your level of comfort.

These cannabinoids and their receptors work like "lock and key" and bind to each other triggering important biological processes.

Hemp Extract, like Hemp Gummies, may help users with...

- Aching joints
- Sore muscles
- Cramping
- Leg and foot discomfort
- Restlessness
- Stress
- Sleep problems

Keeps Your Body Balanced...

The incredible impact cannabinoids have on your health is directly related to the primary goal of your Endocannabinoid System, which is to maintain a balance in the body, a physiological state known as homeostasis.

Research shows that maintaining this balance is a key to vitality and healthy bodily function.

The cannabinoids found in Hemp Gummies, hemp extract, replenish your levels quickly, easing discomfort over the entire body.

Plus, by keeping your body in balance (homeostasis), Hemp Gummies also helps to relieve stress and tension...improve sleep... and even promote relaxation and calmness.

A GUMMY A DAY TO KEEP ALL YOUR ACHES AWAY: Hemp Gummies a 5 milligram dose of Hemp Extract that works all day to keep you comfortable and pain free.

Not Yet Sold in Stores

Hemp extract that is derived from industrial hemp, like Hemp Gummies, is 100% legal in all 50 States. However, several major pharmaceutical companies are currently testing hemp extract in clinical settings, which means it may require a prescription in the future. It's advised to get Hemp Gummies while you can.

Taking All the Risk Off Consumers

A large percentage of men and women using Hemp Gummies experience truly amazing results. That's why it's now being sold with a guarantee that goes way beyond the industry standard.

"We can only make this guarantee because we are 100% certain our customers will be satisfied," says Wezensky. We want to take full risk of consumers. So in addition to offering substantial discounts for first time customers, we also make them a huge promise that ensures they don't have to risk a cent."

Here's how it works: Take Hemp Gummies exactly as directed and you must be thrilled with the results! Otherwise, simply return the empty bottles within 90 days. Then, the company will refund your money plus give you an extra $10 for having tried the product.

Where To Find Hemp Gummies

This is the official nationwide release of Hemp Gummies hemp extract in New York. And so, the company is offering a special discount supply to anyone who calls within the next 48 hours.

An Order Hotline has been set up for local readers to call. This gives everyone an equal chance to try Hemp Gummies hemp extract.

Starting at 7.00AM today, the discount offer will be available for 48 hours. All you have to do is call TOLL FREE at 1-800-499-5630. The company will do the rest.

Important: Due to hemp extracts growing popularity and recent media exposure, phone lines are often busy. If you call and do not immediately get through, please be patient and call back.

Yankee Stadium will host Game 3 of the ALDS tonight. GETTY IMAGES

While Porcello showed glimpses of returning to his 2016 Cy Young form with 17 wins this year, his recent postseason performances provided reasons to worry for Sox Nation. In his first two playoffs with the Red Sox, Porcello has a 7.68 ERA.

His last postseason start came during last season's ALDS against the Houston Astros, where he lasted just three innings in Game 4, allowing two runs on five hits as Boston's season came to an end.

Since being traded to Boston from the Tampa Bay Rays, Eovaldi hasn't allowed an earned run in 16 innings against the Yankees while giving up just six hits.

On Monday night, he'll be facing a Yankees offense that sees two of its biggest names, Aaron Judge and Gary Sanchez, hot at the same time. That's the first time that can truly be said all season.

Judge has hit three home runs in as many playoff games this postseason, a two-run shot in the first inning of the Wild Card Game against Oakland preceding a pair of solo shots in each of the first two games of the ALDS.

Sanchez sprang to life in Game 2 on Saturday night, launching a pair of home runs, including a 479-foot, three-run bomb that put the game out of reach.

It was a much-needed display of offensive prowess from the catcher, who became the proverbial whipping boy of Yankees fans after batting just .186 during the regular season.
